COMMITTED TO CUSTOMER SATISFACTION

BRANSBY BUNNY

Established in 1977, Bransby Bunny Timber Buildings is a family run business and has earned an enviable reputation in manufacturing timber buildings of the highest quality and provide an unequalled customer service. We supply a wide range of buildings direct to the customer. However, if you are unable to find the exact building you are looking for then do not hesitate to contact the office for information. We build to customers own personal requirements and design specification.

Whatever the timber, fittings or materials used in the construction of our buildings, they are carefully selected, with each project constantly monitored for quality at every stage through the factory. All our staff have a responsibility to work to the highest standards so that on final installation, any Bransby Bunny building will automatically compliment it's surroundings.

Our company is committed to achieving customer satisfaction for you.

All timber used in the manufacture of your building is tanalised (pressure treated), i.e. treated against rot for longevity. Although your unit is manufactured from tanalised timber, we highly recommend that a treatment of your building (not forgetting the roof timber trims) be given within one month from delivery and thereafter, annually. As timber is a natural product, the drying effects of the sun and absorption from the rain affect it. By sealing your building this will give maximum protection from the sun and repel the water from the rain. If you like the natural colour of your unit, two coats of a clear Ronseal Decking Seal should be applied (available from any DIY Superstore).

Base Suggestions

Your base structure is VERY important. It must be firm, level and of sufficient size to accommodate the size of the building that you order. As a general guide, better too big than too small. The dimensions in the brochure are for the outside body of the building, not allowing for any roof overhang which is approximately 2.5" all round. Please remember, if you have ordered the assembly service your base must be ready and comply with the above suggestions.
